The future may show that we have lately been watching the making of history: not the mere schoolboy history of battles lost or won, nor the crowning or burying of kings and queens; but the history that records the evolution of a race, the refreshment or diversion of the genius of a people, such as the revolution in Great Britain in 1688, which gave us a toleration Act, the purification of judicial administration, and unlicensed printing. The Russo-Japanese war will probably figure conspicuously in the historical primers given to future Russian generations; but it is of minor importance compared with the recent events at St. Petersburg. When NICHOLAS the First heard of the French affair of 1848, he said to those about him: "Gentlemen, saddle your horses; France is a Republic." He did not mean they were to gallop to Paris to restore Louis Philippe to the throne: he thus signified that it would be Russia's turn next. It was, however, averted for that time, although the contagion of the Parisian example gave Prussia its constitution, and caused Wilhelm I. to fly, scorn and execration the practice which was FREDERICK WILLIAM IV. to salute the then prevalent in Europe as now it is in bodies of the fallen Berlin insurgents, METTERNICH to escape from Vienna, and The inquiry into the Elgin Road, Kowloon the Emperor FERDINAND to abdicate. But for the rigorous repressive measures of the TSAR of that period, a political cataclysm would have overwhelmed Europe. Autocracy triumphed in a short time, for the vastness of its strength then was not known, but guessed at, and guessing tends to exaggeration. It was fear that made the Tear pit his forces against the successful Kossuth in Hungary, fear of the in-The sword example.

authority again conquered, and Russian absolutism was preserved. Fear of might, ignorance of light, the careful and cunning dissemination of that superstition which hails monarchs as the vicegerents of a still more dreaded God, saved Russia from revolution during those trying times. The first Nicholas always tried to keep Russia apart from Europe, to prohibit the ingress of Western ideals as we fight against the importation of plague-bringing rats and rags. But while the effect of such examples as that of the French revolution was by him recognised, he took no account of the fact that thought cannot be barred out, that the instinct of reform, like the idea religious, is apt to be sporadic, to spring up like a fungus in unexpected places. Again, all the censorships and secret police that autocrats can devise cannot prevent rumour from flying, like thistledown; and rumour can breed discontent as well as the most authentic news. Thus, though ALEXANDER 11. mounted the throne of what was called a united Russia, the seeds of liberalism were germinating all the time, and the unsuccessful Crimean war of 1854-56 afforded outlet for similar symptoms to those that are now apparent. ALEXANDER II. did what NICHOLAS II. has been doing, dreaming of reforms. The censorship of the Press was nominally relaxed, but its immediate outburst of unsparing criticism of bureaucracy and its ways led to underhanded persecutions, to which the head of the administration was not privy. On the during his time the Crown estates peasants actually enjoyed a form of On private estates, feucommunism. dalism, with its labour dues, heavy imposts, and seignorial punishments, persisted. The great emancipation scheme of Alexander II. was put into operation, a unique historical feature, but it was sorely crippled by the emendations of the vested interests; and the reaction, following the great hopes builded on the measure, led to all sorts of Nihilistic excesses. Young Russians are like young men everywhere. They dream of the good of humanity at large, and yearn for universal brotherhood. When, therefore, the meats of writers like John Stuart Mill and others less sober are sinuggled in, they prove too rich for mental stomachs habituated to a rigorous official dietary. The reigning Tean has offered the half loaf, and the result is this popular clamour for the whole baking. The blood spilled during the last few days will have the effect of all martyrdom, real or imagined. It spells revolution, more blood, and historical

Dr. Julius Scriba of Japan died on the 3rd inst. The proximate cause was inflammation of lungs, complicated by an abscess of the liver. The services rendered by Dr. Scriba during the past twenty-five years in the cause of Japanese surgical science are highly spoken of. His name, with that of Dr. Baelz, will, it is said, be for ever associated with the development of medical knowledge in Japan. Prior to the announcement of his death, he was invested with the first order of the Sacred Treasure. The funeral took place in Tokyo on the 6th inst.

The Chinese Press in Canton and Hongkong is publishing simultaneously a translation by Consul-General Z. Volpicelli. It is a translation into Chinese of the 12th chapter of a celebrated old Italian work - "On Crimes and Punishments"-written by Marquis Beccaria in the second half of the 18th century, which caused a profound sensation in Europe at that time. The chapter translated by Mr. Volpicelli treats of judicial torture and holds up to fire was continued before Mr. H. H. J Gomportz at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon. Lam Chi Fung, the person who was alleged to have written a letter to the insurance companies interested stating that there was arson in connection with the fire, having returned from Macao, was called as a witness. He stated that he had been informed of this fact from other sources, and his informants had told him that they were willing to appear in Court as witnesses, but had since changed their minds. His Worship concluded the inquiry, and ordered that the premises be released.

An account of an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders in the Weihniwei Gold Mining Co., Ltd., will be found on our fifth page.

Of all the industrial companies established in recent years in Shanghai the most successful is unquestionably the Shanghai Pulp and Paper Co., Ld. On a capital of Tis. 450,000 it made a net profit last year of Tls. 91,271, or something over 20 per cent., against Tls. 59,709 in 1903. The N. C. Daily News is informed that at a directors' meeting held on January 18th, it was decided to pay a final dividend of 8 per cent., making 14 per cent for the year, to place Tls. 15,000 to reserve, raising that fund to Tls. 25,00), to write off Tls. 8,592 for depreciation, and carry forward the balance, Tls. 6.968.

The Shanghai Bund, a new weekly journal has been proceeded against for publishing obseme libels. A difficulty arose through the proprietor, Mr. H. M. Ayres, being a Britisher who had a discharge from the American army. Sir Hiram Wilkinson, Chief Justice, in Chambers, stated that he was satisfied that defendant was entitled to American citizenship, but in the event of the American Consul-General not recognising the claim, defendant, for his own benefit, could return under British jurisdiction. | Sergius is not confirmed. Mr. Ayres did not think this would happen, as before enlisting in the American Volunteer forces he had renounced all allegiance to his previous sovereign. If the Americans would not own him, he would be a man without a country and be compelled to go to the Mixed Court. His Lordship did not desire a European to be put to such extremities. Mr. Jones suggested that the American Consul-General be at once communicated with, but his Lordship said the learned counsel would have to act on his own initiative. The hearing then ended.

ALICE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

From the report of this institution, the following extracts are tak-n:-Totals for 1904: In-Patients, 864; Out-Patients (Individual ases) 14,796. Visits of Out-Patients, 27,785.—Throughout the year the number of cases treated has been well maintaind, the out-patient department showing an increase of 1,359 over returns for 1903. The Alice Memorial Maternity Hospital was opened in June, and by providing accommodation for obstetrical cases, isolated from the general hospital wards, the work has been rendered more complete and more in accordance with modern medical ideas. It is gratifying that through the generous help of friends at Home and in the Colony the Maternity Hospital has | States. been erected, furnished, and (as the balance sheet shows) no debt remains on the building. In 1887 the Alice Memorial Hospital was opened. in 1893 the Nethersole H spital, in 19 4 the Alice Memorial Maternity Hospital, and in 1905 the Ho Mui Kwai Hospital, which has already been begun, will be completed. The faith of those who began the work in 1887 has been rewarded, for not only have the Chinese availed themselves of Western healing in increasing numbers, but additional hospitals have also been gifted to meet the needs of the work The site of the Ho Mui Kwai Hospital, lying immediately to the west of the Nethersole and Maternity Hospitals, has been kindly given by the Hongkong Government, and the cost of erecting the building has been undertaken by a Chinese lady, belonging to a well-known Hongkong family, whose generosity is highly appreciated. The close proximity of this hospital to the Nethersole Hospital will greatly assist in the general management of the increasing work.

During 1904, the number of in-patients in the Alice Memorial Hospitalwas 491, in the Nethersole Hospital 335, and in the Alice Memorial Maternity Hospital 38. In the Alice Hospital. surgical cases formed 52 per cent. of the whole, opthalmic cases, 31 per cent., and medical cases 17 per cent., while in Nethersole Hospital the surgical cases formed 38 per cent., medical cases 32 per cent, ophthalmic 27 per cent., and obstetric (including gynæcological) 3 per cent. The large number of surgical cases, which included fractures, injuries and diseases of bone, emphasises the great need for an X-Ray apparatus. As the extension of work requires additional expenditure the amount necessary cannot be taken from the general funds, and as we are anxious to have the new hospital as well equipped with modern instruments as possible, a special effort will be made to obtain the Rontgen Rays, which will cost about £120.

Miss Langdon has continued her services as a voluntary worker and has four nurses in training in the Nethersole Hospital.

During the year forty students have attended the various classes of the Hongkong College of Medicine, receiving also practical experience in the wards, dispensaries and out-patient rooms.

Financially the hospitals have been benefited greatly by a special collection made to clear off the overdraft on the general account. The arrangements were made by the Chinese members of the Finance Committee and a sum of over $3,000 was obtained. The success of this effort was largely due to Hon. A. W. Brewin, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Mr. Chau Siu Ki, to whom our best thanks are due. Mr. Wells has been Honorary Treasurer and Mr. Lau Wai Chun has kindly collected the annual Chinese donations.

We gratefully acknowledge special donations of £64 from Mrs. Gibson, Paisley, and £20 from Mrs. Coverely, Oporto, which were devoted to the purchase of heds, blankets, and general furniture required for the Maternity Hospital : also donations in kind received from St. Peter's Church, and Dairy Farm Co., Ltd., Donations totalled $9,328.67, plus $3,629.50 subscribed to repair a deficit. The Hospital Sunday collections aggregated $721.50. The balance sheet shows a credit balance of $973.02.

"Nine-days quarantine is established here against all arrivals from Hongkong. Inspection. Koh Phai."

> REUTER'S SERVICE. REUTER'S VERSION.

LONDON, 22nd January. The situation in St. Petersburg is most gerious. The town is in partial darkness, and everyone is buying candles in anticipation of the stoppage of the gas and electric light supply; newspapers are not published. The civil employees of the Arsenal have joined the strikers. A sinister demonstration takes place at the Winter Palace on Sunday to present a petition, the most remarkable and the most outspoken document ever presented to an autocrat. It declares that the people are insulted, treated as slaves, burdened with labour beyond their strength to hear, stifled by despotism and the intolerable yeke of officialdom; injustice has reached the limit of endurance, and death is preferable to intolerable sufferings; national representation is indispensable, and the immediate convocation of representatives of al classes the sole balm for the wounds of the people. Satisfy these demands and you make Russia happy and glorious; if no reply is given to the prayer of the people we will die in the square before the Palace. A Prefect's notice has been issued especially with the view of notifying that 400,000 men will march to the Palace on Sunday afternoon, headed by a young priest named Father Gapon, in canonicals and carrying a crucifix, who is heart and soul in the movement. The workmen insist on seeing the Tsar himself, and a deputation of three workmen has gone to Tsarkoe Selo to try to deliver the petition to the Tear, to enable him to consider it before the monster demonstration. Troops are hurrying up from all districts.

Early in the morning Cossacks and other troops were maroned to the Winter Palace; detachments of cavalry and infantry, each 150 strong, were stationed at various parts of the Fifteen thousand strikers started from the Neva works for the Winter Palace; their route was barred by Cossneks, who opened fire and drove back the demonstrators. Fighting then became general everywhere; the crowd at Nicolas Bridge was stopped by infantry, Uhlans, and Cossacks. The crowd appealed to the soldiers as brothers rifles, but the rest of the troops charged. The Tsar remains at Tsarkoe Selo. The strikers are now infuriated and erecting wire entanglements, tearing down telegraph poles, raising barricades, and organising armed resistance : sanguinary conflicts are taking place all over the city. Father Gapon is wounded, and many women and children killed and wounded; the the cries of women and the angry abouts men. The city appears plunged in open revolumob has erected two barricades at Basil-Island, from which they refuse to retreat in spite of trying to erect barricades at Nevski Prospect. All classes appear alike inflamed. A number of officers have been wounded and fallen at the hands of the mob, who tore off their swords and epaulettes. Ambulances are busy everywhere.

THE WAR.

MISCHENKO'S RAID.

Tokyo, 18th January. It is officially announced that the Japanese on the 14th inst. surrounded the Russian cavalry in the vicinity of Sanchabo, west of Newchwang, and dispersed them. The Russian casualties were over three hundred, and a large number of arms were captured. There were many Chinese regulars among the Russians. Five or six thousand Russians with over ten guns were recently defeated near Newchwang and r tired on the 16th inst. northward, vid Lisotuniulu.

On the same evening, the Japanese cavalry encountered some Russian cavalry in the vicinity of Liaohoshe. The Russians were wearing the 18th instant, M. Rouvier, ex- Chinese conts and caps, and some of them had pigtails. The Russians retired.

The movement, however, is commented on in London as intended as a raid against the neutral zone, to induce the mediation of the SUPREME COURT.

Tuesday, 24th January,

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION. BEFORE HIS HONOUR MR. T. SERCOMBE SMITH (PUISNE JUDGE).

YAU SZE LOONG D. TUNG TAI TSEUNG KEE. This was a claim for $74.55, amount due for work done. There was a counterclaim for $60.84. Mr. R. A. Harding appeared for the plaintiff in the original action and Mr. C. E. H. Beavis (of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist) for the defendant.

The manager of the plaintiff firm said :-- We are boiler makers and makers of machinery. Our city, but the artillery was concerled from view. business is different to that of the defendants. The defendants are fitters, and sub-contract their boiler work to us. We have been doing this sort of work for the defendants for some time; this is the first dispute. On the 1st December I received an order from the manager of the defendant firm for certain goods for the s.s. On Sang. The price was agreed upon, and the goods made not to shoot, and the infantry laid down their according to the order. The goods were delivered on the morning of the 3rd December. I heard no complaint about them. On the 2nd December I received a further order from the defendants for a water tank. When this was completed I delivered it in pieces at the defendants' premises, where my men proceeded to put it together. That was on the 6th December, and we worked all night at the defendants' premises to get the job completed by the scenes are indescribable, and the air is rent with morning of the 7th December. When the tank was tested with water a small leakage was found, not an unusual occurrence, as ninety-nine tion, and a night of horror is in prospect. The out of every hundred tanks thus put together will leak a little at first. I said I would send a couple of men to put it right. I did so, but repeated volleys from the troops; they are also | the men returned immediately. Lau Fat, the manager of the defendant firm, sent for me and asked me to look at the tank; that was on the 8th December. I did so, and saw that a corner was broken. I said that it was not we who had made that hole, and asked Lau Fat why he did not use the men I had sent To mend that new hole I asked for more money. Lau Fat assaulted me. I summoued him at the Police Court, on the 14th December, and he was convicted. Next day I received a letter of complaint about previous goods delivered; the first I had heard. The defendants owe me $74.55 in respect of the orders referred to. Regarding the tank, I could have made good the original leakage in two hours, but it would have taken a day to make good the damage I saw on the following day.

> The defendant's cross action was in respect of expenses incurred by his having to complete the work which the plaintiff had contracted to do. In all he claimed $60.84 on this account, but was only able to establish one or two items totalling $6.37.

> His Honour gave judgment for the plaintiff in the first action for $74.55, the full amount claimed, and costs; and the plaintiff in the cross-action for $6.37, which did not carry

During his absence the crew assaulted the excise officers, and threw the opium and paraphernalia for preparing same overboard. On the charges of assault three of the defendants were each fined $25; on the charges of being in possession of illicit opium the fourth defendant was fined $300 and the fifth $10.

A PICKPOCKET. A gasfitter while changing some money at a money-changer's in Queen's Road Central was robbed by a coolie of three $10 notes. He felt his pocket being picked, but was not smart enough to capture the coolie, who made good his escape. He was, however, arrested on Monday night in Hollywood Road, and was yesterday identified by a district watchman in the gaol compound from amongst sixteen other natives. He pleaded "not guilty," but was sentenced by His Worship to three months' hard labour.

THE GOVERNOR ON HISTORY.

His Excellency was again called upon yesterday to distribute prizes. This time it was to the students of the Diocesan School and Orphanage. There was a large numb r of ladies and gentleasen present, and the morning's proceedings were enlivened by songs rendered by the school choir.

The Head Master, Mr. G. Pirrey, read the annual roport, in which the following passages occurred :-The past twelve months have been marked by several important changes. As more boys apply than we can possibly receive, we have selected young applicants rather than the older ones of 18 to 23 years, so that the average age of the school is lower than fermerly and the several members of a class are more nearly of an age. The new Code which came into force on 1st January allows greater latitude in arrangement of subjects and classification of pupils. H.M. Inspector wrote that pending a full report he might say the school did very well.

Twenty-one boys entered for the Oxford Local Examination: 16 passed, namely 2 Seniors, 4 Juniors, 10 Preliminary. For the first time we had a Senior candidate in Honours, Edward Law having that proud position and being also specially distinguished in history, which is the only distinction won by Hongkong candidates. John Crolius was placed in Honours in Preliminary. Mr H. Hastings, a former pupil, now resident in Formesa, Laskindly presented valuable prizes to these two.

The total enrolment of scholars was 256, and the average daily attendance was 188 (last year 171).

The health of the Institution has been remarkably good, there being an almost entire absence of malarial fever, wounds and bruises incidental to footbal and cricket being almost the only ailments. The charitable side of the work is not neglected, and in fact is increasing. In addition to four orphons supported by the Freemasons, there are eight boarders entirely dependent on the school for board, clothing and education, as well as others on reduced fees. Two English boys born in Australia have been rescued, one sent us by H.M. Consul at Amoy, from actual slavery in the interior and the other sent us by the Ladies' Benevolent Society, evidently a case of kidnapping for slavery. Our thanks are again due to the following friends who have kindly contributed prizes: Mrs. Siebs, the Hon. Mr. Wei Yuk, Rev. F. T. Johnson, Messrs. L. Arnold, F. B. L. Bowley, T. Edwards, Fung Wa-chuen, H. Hastings, E. A. Hewett, Ho Fook, Ho Tung, J. Olson, A. Rumjahn, J. A. dos Remedios, and Sin Tak-fan.

His Excellency, having presented th prizes, said:—. My Lord Bishop, ladies and gentlemen: The report of the Head Master which has been read to us is satisfactory. Here, as at Queen's College. there are more boys desirous of entering the school than can be received, showing an increased appreciation of the education offered at the principal boys' schools of the Colony. The division of the lower classes into Chinese and non-Chinese sections has effected an improvement which the report for 1903 showed was necessary. The school did well on the visits of the Inspector of Schools and at the Oxford Local Examinations, and I would add that I had direct evidence at my own inspection on-

September 26 that the teaching of the boys was thorough and the tone of the school good. I congratulate Mr. Piercy and his very capable staff on these results. The weak point of the school, according to the report of the Inspector of Schools, is history. In spite of the distinction gained by Edward Law the inspector calls attention to the fact that while the toys who presented themselves for the Oxford Local Examinations passed in geography they were successful in less than half of their papers in history. It seems to me possible that the lack of interest aroused in schools by the study of history may be due to the dulness of its groundwork, consisting, as it generally does, largely of names and dates committed to memory. I have often thought whether this could not be avoided and some more attractive method of teachconclusion that names and dates are more easily and more permanently learnt in our schooldays than afterwards, and are the only satisfactory scaffolding from which a sound structure of historical knowledge can afterwards be erected. It is true that unless one is endowed with the memory of a Macaulay one cannot carry a collection of dates all through life, but if one starts with a collection one has incidents and periods between or around which to group the great movements of the world's development. I will give you one or two examples of this grouping. At the present moment I am a shamed to say I do not recall the exact date of the founding of Rome or of the fall of Constantinople, but I know that Roman history limited in either direction by those events extended from about seven and a half centuries before the Christian Era to nearly fifteen centuries after it. The first two and a half centuries were those of the growth of the town under empire covering the west and south of Europe, the north of Africa, and the east of Asia. It was close on 500 years before this empire began to break up, and for another 1,000 years its traditions and forms lingered in the Eastern Empire with its capital at Constantinople. The fall of that city, which sent classical learning wendering westward, occur-invention of prin ing and the early maritime discoveries, produced the first great movement of modern Europe-the Remissance. The height of that movement was at a date which dways clings to my memory -the year 1492. In that year a new world was discovered across the Atlantic. The Mussulman who had so recently gained a footing in the East was finally expelled from western Europe by the conquest of Granada and the death of Lorenze the Magnificent, and also in the downfall of Florence, the city par ex cellence of art and learning, where the Tuscar painters. Michael Angelo, Galileo, Pico, and the Platonists, and a host of others flourished under the enlightened patronage of the Medici. As the Renaissance was the movement of the 15th century, so was the Reformation that of the 16th. The close of the 17th century was mark ed by the growth of modern scientific and philosophic ideas and the desire for freedom which acted against the oppression of ruling classes and produced the vast upheaval of the French Revolution in the last decades of the 18th century. The absolutism of Napoleon at the commencement of the 19th century was the natural reaction from the license of the Revolution, and the quiet period that followed the downfall of Napoleon was again a reaction from the stirring times of the war which lasted during his domina tion of Europe. The quiet time gave birth to the industrial movement which characterised the latter half of the nineteenth century. will now leave the general history of Europe in order to give you an example from English history of the use of dates as historical scuffolding. The year 1215 is familiar to you all as the date of the signing of the Magna Charta in the reign of John. This King was nicknamed Lackland because he lost his French territories. The result of this loss was that the Plantagenets from Norman Dukeshelding England by right of conquest, became English Kings who considered that they had claims on the Norman Duchy The battle of Agincourt in 1415, and 200 years after the signing of Magna Charta, marked the highest point ever reached in the assertion of those claims. The ill-success of the King who followed Henry V. and the subsequent internal troubles in England at the time of the wars of the Roses, led her to abandon the attempt to become a Continental power. Some two hundrid years after Agincourt she had started her first colonial efforts, and aid the foundation of her commerce, and it was her Colonies and her commerce that led her again to take part in wars con the Continent, and to the battle of Waterloo in 1815, exactly 400 years after Agincourt and 600 years after the signing of Magna Chara. With these examples of historical scaffolding from the general history of Europe, and the history. of England, I must, I fear, stop. I should have liked to have given another with reference to the East, and to have ran over briefly the salient features in the histories of the five ancient monarchies of Egypt, Cha'dea, Assyria, Babylonia and Persia, of my own people—the Jews, of classical India, of Sanserit times, and of the vast Empire of China, which differs from the other Eastern countries I have named in history to the present day. But my speech has degenerated to a lecture which has made an undue claim on your time and attention. only hope that what I have said may have impressed the idea on some that a scaffolding of dates and facts, acquired in a school course of history, helps the subsequent building up of the world's stories, and that these stories are of intense interest. I will now conclude by evincing my own interest in the subject and stimulating that of the boys of this school in another way, viz. by presenting an extra prize to the boy who has shown himself the most pr mising student of history.

The recipient was Edward Law.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop J. C. HOARE thanked His Excellency for so kindly distributing the prizes. It was of very great value to the educational works of the Colony to have the head of the Government showing real practical interest in education. He personally felt, after having been round with His Excellency to one or two schools and spent some hours with him, that he did not come only to give away the prizes. His Excellency had a knowledge of ing introduced, but I have been forced to the | what was wanted, and could give a great deal of advice as to how educational work should be carried out. The Colony is to be congratulated in having a Governor who is really a help to it in its educational work (applause). His Excellency had been speaking about history. This was a most interesting subject to read, but the most difficult to teach, as one does not know where to begin or end. There was no royal road to the learning of this subject. The modern history books published were no doubt very for the purpose. interesting, but he believed the older teachers were much more advantageous. His Excellency was right in saying that if we want to learn it

His Lordship then addressed the scholars at some length with regard to sport, holidays, etc. and wound up by calling for three hearty erecting certain bath-houses for Chinese for the somewhat mythological kings. The Powderham left Barry on the 12th of November with a cargo of Cardiff coal, bound for Hongkong. HONGKONG SANITARY

BOARD.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held n the Board Room yesterday afternoon. Dr. M. Atkinson (President) presided, and there were also present the Hon. Mr. P. N. H. Jones (Vice-President), the Hon. Mr. A. W Brewin, Col. W. E. Webb, R.A.M.C., Mr. E. A. Hewett, Mr. A. Rumjahn, Dr. F. Clark Dr. H. Macfarlane, Dr. B. T. Barnett and Mr T. A. Hanmer (Secretary).

The minutes of the previous meeting were

PAREWELL TO DR. BARNETT. The PRESIDENT-Before proceeding with the Lusiness I should like to mention that this is the last meeting before the departure of Dr Barnett, who has been offered and has accepted an appointment in Egypt. During his two years at Hongkong he has had an amount of plague experience which will stand him in good stead there. I am sure you will join with me in wishing him success. (Hear, hear.) Dr. BARNETT-I beg to thank you most heartily. I feel that you have all been very

A SANITARY BOARD SECRET. Mr. RUMJAHN-I notice that the report of the sub-committee appointed in November to look into a question regarding limewashing has been set down for the confidential meeting You will remember that at the meeting in November. I made strong recommendations. would point out that the recommendations of the sub-committee agree mainly with the point I put forward to the Board. I wish to recommend to the Board that the report be dealt with in public.

The President-This is a matter which concerns the reading of certain bye-laws, and we had to ask the opinion of the Crown Solicitor. If you like, you can propose to the meeting to deal with it in public, but it is a departmental affair, and should, I think, be dealt with privately.

Mr. Rumjahn-I am satisfied with your remarks, and think it should be dealt with

THE FIRST RECORDED CASE OF BLACK QUARTER IN CHINA.

Mr. A. Gibson, the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon, reported a case of black quarter inthe Kennedy Town Animal Depot thus:-I found a case of black quarter (Rauschbrand) in Kennedy Town yesterday (7th inst.) The animal, a bullock, arrived at the cattle wharf from Wa Chow in the morning in a moribund condition and was at once carried up to the slaughter house and killed. The animals, 22, that came with it are all healthy, but have been set apart by themselves. This case is chiefly of interest from the fact that it is the first of its kind, so far that I have been able to find, that has been recorded in China. It is very common in Britain. The disease is not communicable to man, nor is it very infectious among animals It is contracted by inoculation only.

BATH-HOUSES FOR CHINESE.

Dr. Clark in a minute suggested, for the consideration of the Government, that in connection with the question of public bathhouses for Chinese the public latrine in G ugh Street, under the playground of the Belilios Public School -- a litrine closed about two years ago on account of the annoyauce it caused to scholars and masters at the schoolmight at a small cost be converted into a public inhabitants of this district, while, no such nuisance would be likely to arise as was occasioned by the public latrine.

The President minuted-I thought it was being used as a storehouse. This was, recom mended in estimates for last year. Can it be as soon as they saw the harbour launch ap-undertaken this year? The Vice-President minuted-I see it is estimated to cost $2,000. There is no mon y in the estimates for bath-houses. It may perhaps be done from "Miscellaneous Works."

The President again minuted -I would surgest that the Board recommend that this be done, and also that No. 3 Police Station be con verted into a bath house. These premises are no longer used as a Police Station and could made into a bath-house at small cost.

Mr. Rumjahn minuted - No. 3 Police Station is too valuable a property to be converted into a bath house. A site on the hill on top of the nullah, east of the Station, should be selected

The President-I think I am correct in saying that this site under the playeground of Belilios School was recommended by the Board for consideration last year. I upderstand there are no funds placed for this item, though it is just possible that might be paid for out of another vote. understand that No. 3 Po ice Station is empty. hereby cancelled. There is a proposition before Government for which they will pay. This Station might at very litle cost, be converted into a paying bath for Wanchai. I move that Government be requested to sanction that the latrine near Belilios School and No. 3 Police Station be altered. Mr. RUMJAHN-I think the site at No. 3 | has fallen over the Pacific and in Mid-China. Police Station covers 10,000 square feet, and if put up by auction should fetch five or six dollars a square foot, so with the cost of converting it it would cost the Colony a lot of money. The Vice-President-Mr. Rumjahn is quite right it is a valuable site worth quite six dollars a foot.

Mr. HEWETT-If this site is not utilized. for a bath-house is there a suitable site on the hill behind? It is very difficult to find a place to put up latines.

The VICE-PRESIDENT-I could not say just

Mr. RUMJAHN-There is a site at the back of Tik Loong Lane.

The VICE-PRESIDENT-I will make a note The President -- If someone will second my proposition the matter would still be considered by Government and the Director of Public Mr. HEWETT seconded, and it was carried.

APPLICATIONS FOR EXEMPTION. Applications for exemption from balcony regulations in respect of Nos. 103 and 105, Third Street, and the new watchmen's quarters in Third Street, respectively, were granted.

THE YAUMATI FISH SUPPLY. Respecting an application for a licence to sell fish in respect of No. 52, Station Street Mongkok, Mr. Hewett minuted--Refuse if there are sufficient men in Yaumati Market to meet the demands of the neighbourhood. The application was refused.

MORTALITY STATISTICS. Mortality Statistics for the whole Colony for the week ended the 31st December, 1904, at death rate per thousand per annum, showed the following figures:-British and foreign civil population, 1.42 as against of corresponding week last year, as against 13.2 of the preceding week Chinese land population, 15.9, as against 245 last year and 13.1 preceding week. PROPOSED KUANGTUNG-KUANGSI RAILWAY.

Hongkong, 27th December, 1904.

In response to a circular despatch of Viceroy Tsên to the Waiwupu and the Shangpu asking for money to construct a railway which shall join the two provincial capitals (Canton and Kucilin) of Knangtung and Knangsi, in order that Chi a may be first in the field and so prevent foreigners from seeking to exploit the sam , the two Boards have sent a reply empowering Viceroy Tsên to raise fun 's locally as the central G vernment has no available funds for the proposed undertaking. In consequence of this, Vicoroy Tsen has cretored that all civil and military officials holding office in the two Kuang provinces, are to subscribe a cortain percentage of their sularies at once towards the scheme, while on the other hand the wealthy gentry and merchants of the two provinces are to be appealed to to purchase shares in the new railway. With the money thus raised Viceroy Teen has expressed his conviction that there will be quite sufficient funds to start the venture and bring its construction to a successful issue. Vicercy Teên also rightly thinks that once the line has been started and opened to traffic without delay as each section became completed, and worked intelligently and honestly -- and there are plenty of Cantonese and natives of Kuangsi who can do so-not only would the road pay for itself as its construction proceeded, but that those who held back from subscribing for fear of losing their money, seeing how things were managed, would only be too glad to press their money into the hands of these in charge of the railway for the purchase of shares in the

TURBULENT CHINESE AT SHANG-

The "Native Notes" writer, of our northern contemporary had the following on Jan.

Although there has been a strong under-current of bitter hostility against the Russians amongst all classes of Chinese, let alone those of Ningpo de-cent, ever since the Bund tragedy of the 15th of December last, which has been prevented with great difficulty from breaking out by Taotais Shen Tun-ho, Yu Ya-ching and other prominent resident Ningpo gentlemen, who appealed to the good sense and general love of peace amongst the more quiet and law-abiding portion of their numerous fellow-townsmen, the gentlemen named above had their hands full indeed when the sentence of the Russian Court martial upon the sailor Agreef became known on Saturday to the Chinese community here. The Ningpo men of the lower classes who are specially numerous in the Chinese suburbs, beyond the French settlement, led by men who ought to have knewn better, were clamorous in their demands to hold a mass meeting at their Guild, or what is usually known amongst us as the "Ningpo Josehouse," in order to settle about the calling of a general strike, the closing of all shops kept by Ningpo men in the three settlements etc.. in order to show their wrath against the Russians. Fortunately this was reported in time to the Ningpo gentlemen referred to above, who knew that such a gathering of infuriated and irresponsible men would surely result in a riot from which only those who were innocent would suffer, and so, hurrying to the Chinese suburbs these gentlemen and their supporters with extreme difficulty succeeded in preventing the proposed mass meeting by letting it be known that they, and the principal representatives of various other provinces residing in Shanghai, were about to convene at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to arrange about the best method of showing general desatisfaction over the result of the Court-martial. This quieted in a manner many of the turbulent spirits gathered in the Chinese suburbs and the proposed demonstration was adjourned to await the result of the meeting at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. This was published in an Express sent out yesterday and distributed throughout the foreign settlements, native city and suburbs, which we now translate as follows :-- At a conference held this afternoon in the Chinese Chamber of (ommerce, in which the members of the Committee of the Guilds of the various provinces doing business in Shanghai participated, it was decided in the first place to send a joint telegram signed by the Committees of the Guilds present, to the Waiwupu and also to the Imperial High Commissioners of the Nanyang Administration (Viceroy Chon Fu of Nanking) strongly protesting against the action of the Russian authorities in relation to the death of Chon Seng-yu at the hands of Russian s ilors. In the second place it was decided to draw up petitions, signed by the members of Committees of the various provincial Guilds present, R.G.A., on conclusion of above. Lyemun | Senior Consul, and the International and from Pak-sha-wan. Launch will leave Murray the difficulty being experienced by the petitioners in calming the people; and thirdly, it Leave Cancelled-No. 2. With reference to has been decided to stop using all notes issued bled this day, and they now unite in requesting the merchants and handicraftsmen of Ningpo descent in Shanghai to postpone their proposed mass meeting. (Signed) The members of Committees of all the provincial guilds established in the port of Shanghai. As already stated above this Express succeeded in preventing the mass meeting at the Ningpo Josshouse called for yesterday by the more turbulent of the Ningpo community of this port, and as can be imagined may be said to have been the only way under the circumstances to effect such a thing, as these people had lost faith in the ability of their leaders and the Shanghai Taotai to do anything in the matter. Had a mass meeting of the kind referred to been allowed to take place there is no knowing to what a pass these ignorant and misguided lar FLOOR, WATKINS' BUILDINGS Ningpo labourers, handicraftsmen and coolies N.B.—Communication with Gap Rock is in- led by interested rascals and assisted by rowdies and desperadoes, would have been brought.

THE LAUGHING STOCK OF SHANGHAI. The extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders in the Weihaiwei Gold Mining Company, Ld., to receive the report of the special Committee of three of their number appointed to examine the books and accounts of the Company, was held on January 18th at

The statement as circulated read :-Following is the statement (approximately) of the Weihaiwei Gold Mining Co., Ld.

E. & O. E. (Sg.) C. P. ALLAN. J. McMurtrie. A. MOLLER.

The Chairman-Your Directors do not agree with this statement. The Committee call it a cash account, but in it is included $6,000 for concentrates, which may or may not be realised. They have also included $4,000 for the probable value of bar for February, which cannot be expected to arrive here before about the 12th of the month. These two items together amount to $10,000. The only change we see is for the worse, as we are incurring further expenses day by day.

Mr. Morriss-The $4,000 represent the probable value of bar for January, not for February. The Chairman-But we shall not receive until the 12th February. On Monday, the 16th instant, two-bills were presented which we did not accept; one was for £71. 19s. 10d. for mine candles; one for $1,800 came down from Weihaiwei : and we are now advised of another from Weihaiwei for $450. $5,000 must be sent up to Weihaiwei before the Chinese New Year to avoid a riot amongst the miners. (Laughter.) Well! ask Mr. Taylor; he will tell you that i house in Kowloon. Also a FURNISHED they do not get their wages they will burn our

> Mr. Taylor-I said that because you suggested the dismissal of the entire staff. The Chairman-In addition to the $5,000 there is $9,000 due to Mr. Dawson for salary and passage. He would have been here by the last steamer, but waited according to our instructions by wire, to see Mr. Moller. Against these liabilties we have $5,550 in cash. The shareholders will see the absolute need for further funds, and we have not time to wait till the meeting called for the 2nd of February There is still unsubscribed $3,200 of the $20,000 twelve per cent. debentures last issued. and if these were taken up that would enable us to pay these bills. We also expect $1,200 from the December builion, and someone might advance us $1,000 against that security. (A laugh.) These two sources would give us about $5,000, which would tide us over to a cortain extent, but will not enable us to pay off any of our indebtedness. I wish to call the attention of those shareholders who have not paid the call on the preference shares due on the 19th inst. to paragraph 19 of the Articles of Association (The article provides for the payment of interest on the amounts not paid up to date). On the other side of the question, a little more satisfactory, though not much so, I received yesterday a letter from the Imperial Chinese Mining Administration. (This letter was read; it acceded to the wish of the Directors that Mr. Wallace Broad, Mining ! Expert to the Chinese Imperial Administration, should make an examination and report on the mine.) Mr. Taylor-I trust we shall not separate to-night without doing something practical These informal meetings without result are making us the laughing-stock of Shanghai. Our Managing Director has made up his mind, or what he calls his mind, that the Company is ruined, and he will do nothing to help us out of the mess into which he and his colleagues have landed us. You have noticed that the Extraordinary General Meeting we called for about four weeks ago will not be held until the 2nd of February. If, as I hope will be the case, we decide upon reconstruction, we shall have to wait for the Confirmatory Meeting and then for reconstruction to be completed, which will [82 | carry us well into March before we get any money in. Before that time arrives we shall, if nothing is done meanwhile to finance and that all we have to complain about is their fatuous incompetence and want of energy, but I have to warn them that I know their action, or rather want of action, has given rise to grave doubts among shareholders who do not know them personally and only judge from the reports of these meetings. It is difficult for a shareholder at a distance to believe that honourable men who have assumed such grave responsibilities should, simply through incom-petence, make no effort to save the interests confided to them. I know, of course, that it is not so, but their methods could not be improved upon were they working for a syndicate desirous of securing our property at a low figure.

And this is what is going to happen to us if we do not take immediate action. The shareholders as a body must rouse themselves, and not rely always upon a few of their number to come forward again to find funds to carry on. I believe we have a valuable property, but the fact is we do not know what we have. I am sure that if you question the Directors regarding our concessions you will find that not one of them can give you the smallest information about them. They have done nothing to have them examined, and all we really do know is that we have a fully equipped mine which Mr. Duff and Mr. Dawson both tell us has good prospects if it is properly worked. I think the shareholders will all agree with me that the first thing to do is to get an active man on the Board, and I suggest that Mr. Allan be asked to become a Director from to-day. I understand that Mr. Heffer and Mr. E. S. Little will both be willing to serve if Mr. Duff and Mr. Moller recommend reconstruction. This matter ought to be decided to-day, as we shall probably have no other chance of expressing our wishes before next month. As for reconstruction, I think there can be no doubt we should be foolish not to support it. When the Company was first floated it was a speculation, yet the $20 shares were subscribed for three times over. It can hardly he called a speculation now if we are to believe our experts, for Gen Tzu Ling will pay in time. It is worth while subscribing some more money to preserve this and to find out what else we have. I believe that if a sufficient number of the shareholders will pledge themselves to support reconstruction and to pay the first call on the shares, which I consider should be a call of $2, the Bank would upon these personal guarantees advance us the small sum needed to carry us over the period of reconstruction. A circular ought to be sent out to all shareholders at once calling for this guarantee. I consider we should follow Mr. Dawson's advice and shut down the mill for a time, cut down all avoidable expenses. push forward development vigorously, and send up the best expert we can get to report not only on the mine but on all our other properties. I know very little about mining, but I think I can understand the present position at Gin Tze Ling. When the ore is found in narrow lodes it is evident it must be attacked at a good many points to get out sufficient to keep the mill going at full power, especially as the ore may give out temporarily at one or more points. This necessitates sinking shafts and driving levels at various depths. I do not understand why this was not foreseen earlier, but we have to face the situation as it is. We need not lose heart at all. If we pull together, and especially if our affairs are confided to men with even an average allowance of brains and energy, I believe we shall yet have reason to congratulate ourselves. But I am quite certain of this: that if we allow our present

Managing Director to remain in command of the ship, we shall not get off the rocks he has landed us on, but there will be no salvage Mr. Allan-What vote will be necessary to approve the reconstruction of the company? The Chairman-A three-quarters majority of the votes represented at the meeting called for the 2nd of February.

Mr. Taylor-Kindly read out the Article in the Articles of Association; I don't think you will find it. The Chairman-It is not in the Articles of Association.

Mr. Hunt-May I suggest that we take a vote now to ascertain how many will be prepared to support reconstruction 'The Chairman-Certainly, and the number of shares they represent.

Mr. S. Hunt-A preliminary show of hands would give an indication. The show of hands showed a large majority in favour of reconstruction. A of shareholders together with the number of shares held by each, who would vote for reconstruction, was also signed, but the full result was not arrived at before the meeting

Mr. Allan-I see that no other member of the committee who drew up the report before the meeting is present, and it ought not to pass without a remark in answer to the Chairman. I think the statement we drew up is a very fair one. Had we not put on the value of the concentrates for January we should have been in error. It makes no difference that the money will not come in till the 12th of February; it belongs to the January account. If we owe money on the 1st, but know that this is coming in on the 12th, we are justified in put- COAL ting one against the other. As regards the value of the concentrates we took what Mr. Moller considered a fair sum; if they have not been disposed of, it is hardly the fault of the Committee who examined the books. It has been mentioned that two other gentlemen have expressed willingness to go on the board of directors, but they consented to do so under certain conditions. They would not take over from the present directors if the company is to go into liquidation, to save the present directors from work they should do, but they would take office if reconstruction were agreed to and shareholders also agreed to pay a call of $1 or $2 per share to tide the company over the next three or four months. Under those circumstances we will take over as soon as the shareholders are willing (Applause). What the company seems to want is a bank. We have certain incomings in a short time, and I cannot but think that a bank could be found to advance us what we need for the time being. (Applause.) The Chairman—I am afraid not. Mr. Taylor remarked that the Articles provided for not more than six Directors. He asked whether the present board would object to ask Mr. C. P. Allan and Mr. L. R. Burkhardt to join them from date.

The Chairman said the Board had no objection at all and would write to the gentlemen named. In answer to Mr. Sullivan, the Chairman said that a call of $2 per share would raise in round figures $54,000. He asked if the meeting could not take up the $3,200 outstanding on the issue of twelve per cent. debentures in the meantime. Mr. Hay, Mr. Young, and others urged that an effort should be made to get this extra money subscribed, and with a certain amount of urging the full sum was promised in the room. The Chairman asked what should be done in regard to shutting down the mill and dismissing some of the staff, to effect the economy mentioned in the final paragraph of the Committee's

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY

This successful and highly popular remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Johert, Velpeau and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto shorttime, often a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, initation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless. THERAPION NO. 2 for im-the blood, scarvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swel-lings of the joints, secondary symptoms, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferers' teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION NO. 3 for exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of early error, cacess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to the debilitated.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/9 &c. "Sanitas" Disinfecting Fluid is non-poisonous and non-staining, and for general or personal use is thoroughly effective. It completely disinfects the house in which it is used, and, administered internally prevents Cholera, Typhoid Fever, Dysentery, etc. 'Sanitas'' Disinfecting Powder is the best air purifier known, and a stronger antiseptic and deodorant than embolic acid, besides being pleasant and refreshing. 'Sanitas'' Eucalyptus Soap is specially recommended by the medical faculty for use in hot climates, because of its fine disinfecting qualities and its fragrance.

Kingzett's Fumigating Candles supply the safest and most convenient means if of sulphur fumigation. For the disinfection of infected places, bedding, clothing, etc., they are both efficacious and economical. Destroy all insects.

BETHNAL GREEN,

will positively break up a deep, racking cough past relief by other means.
